

FDA warns puberty blocker may cause brain swelling, vision loss in children July 26th 2022

The warning seems to conflict with U.S. Assistant Secretary of Health Rachel Levine's claim that "there is no argument among medical professionals" that youth access to "gender affirming care", such as blockers, is valuable and important.

The Economist May 15th 2022
Doubts are growing about therapy for gender-dysphoric children
Drug treatments seem to do little good, and may be harmful

PUBERTY IS NOT A DISEASE

Sweden's Natl Health Board joins Finland, recommends against puberty blockers & "35 to 40% of these children [seeking gender hormones for children] are on the autistic spectrum."

NBHW review concludes that evidence base is of 'low quality' and treatments carry risks
"I literally lost organs": Why detransitioned teens regret changing gender NEW YORK POST June 18, 2022

At 13, she was put on puberty blockers and prescribed testosterone. At 15, she underwent a double mastectomy. Less than a year later, she realized she'd made a mistake.

I want my representatives to fight Big Pharma's profit-driven push to prescribe puberty blockers to children & to stop surgeries like mastectomies being performed on kids as young as age 13 in the name of "gender transition".

Gender physicians acknowledge that puberty blockers followed by cross-sex hormones will nearly always result in permanent infertility.

How can an 11-year-old child consent to never having kids? Or to the risks of vision loss, brain swelling & early osteoporosis that the FDA says blockers alone carry?

16-year-old girls crowdfunding for reconstruction surgery because they regret the amputation of their healthy breasts represent a medical scandal, not progress. Please stand against this harm.
